1. INTRODUCTION

The Promotion of Access to Information Act (“PAIA”), No. 2 of 2000 (“the Act”) gives effect to the constitutional rights of access to information held by another person and that is required for the exercise or protection of any rights. If a public body is the requester, the public body must be acting in the public interest. If a request is made in terms of the Act, the body to whom the request is made is obliged to release the information, except where the Act provides that the information may or must not be released. Requests in terms of the Act must be made in accordance with the prescribed procedures, at the rates provided. The forms and tariffs are dealt with in paragraphs 6 and 7 of the Act.

2. PURPOSE OF THIS MANUAL

1. In this PAIA manual, any reference to “Hollard” includes any of the entities listed below;
 - a. The Hollard Insurance Company Ltd (Reg No. 1952/003004/06),
 - b. Hollard Life Assurance Company (Reg. No. 1993/001405/06), and
 - c. Hollard Investment Managers (Reg. No. 1997/001696/07).
2. This PAIA Manual is intended to ensure that Hollard complies with the Act and to foster a culture of transparency and accountability within Hollard Insurance by giving effect to the right to information that is required for the exercise or protection of any right and to actively promote a society in which the people of South Africa have effective access to information to enable them to exercise and protect their rights.
3. To promote effective governance of private bodies, it is necessary to ensure that everyone is empowered and educated to understand their rights in terms of the Act for them to exercise their rights in relation to public and private bodies.
4. Section 9 of the Act recognises that the right to access information cannot be unlimited and should be subject to justifiable limitations, including, but not limited to:
 - a. Limitations aimed at the reasonable protection of privacy;
 - b. Commercial confidentiality; and
 - c. Effective, efficient, and good governance; and in a manner that balances that right with any other rights, including such rights contained in the Bill of Rights in the Constitution.

PLEASE NOTE:

The publication of this manual does not give rise to any rights to access records except as provided for in terms of PAIA.

This Manual is useful for the public to:

- check the categories of records Hollard holds without a person having to submit a formal PAIA request;
- have sufficient understanding of how to make a request for access to a record, by providing a description of the subjects on which the body holds records and categories of records held on each subject;
- know the records that Hollard holds that are available in terms of any other laws;

- access the contact details of the Information Officer (and Deputy Information Officer, if applicable) who will help you request the records you want to access;
- know the description of the guide on how to use PAIA, as updated by the Regulator and how to obtain access to it;
- know if Hollard will process personal information, the purpose of processing of personal information and the description of the categories of data subjects and of the information or categories of information relating thereto;
- know the description of the categories of data subjects and of the information or categories of information relating thereto;
- know the recipients or categories of recipients to whom the personal information may be supplied;
- know if Hollard has planned to transfer or process personal information outside the Republic of South Africa and the recipients or categories of recipients to whom the personal information may be supplied; and
- know whether Hollard has appropriate security measures to ensure the confidentiality, integrity and availability of the personal information which is to be processed.

Indicate if the body has planned transborder flows of personal information. For example, some personal information may be stored in the cloud outside the Republic. Please specify the country in which personal information will be stored and categories of personal information.

Hollard will only process and transfer personal information to countries that we are satisfied will provide adequate data protection and we ensure our other service providers will comply with Hollard's minimum data protection standards.

11. GROUNDS FOR REFUSAL

As prescribed in Section 25 of PAIA, justifiable grounds exist for Hollard to refuse or limit access to information and will inform the requester accordingly. Grounds for refusal include, but are not limited to:

- 11.1 Mandatory protection of the privacy of a third party who is a natural person or a deceased person (section 63) or a juristic, as included in the Protection of Personal Information Act 4 of 2013, which would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information of that natural or juristic person;
- 11.2 Mandatory protection of personal information and for disclosure of any personal information to, in addition to any other legislative, regulatory, or contractual agreements, comply with the provisions of the Protection of Personal Information Act 4 of 2013;
- 11.3 Mandatory protection of the commercial information of a third party (section 64), if the record contains:
 - o trade secrets of the third party;
 - o financial, commercial, scientific, or technical information which disclosure could likely cause harm to the financial or commercial interests of that third party; or
 - o information supplied in confidence by a third party to Hollard, if the disclosure could put that third party at a disadvantage in negotiations or commercial competition;
- 11.4 Mandatory protection of confidential information of third parties (section 65) if it is protected in terms of an agreement;
- 11.5 Mandatory protection of the safety of individuals and the protection of property (section 66);
- 11.6 Mandatory protection of records privileged from production in legal proceedings (section 67);
- 11.7 Protection of the commercial information of Hollard (section 68); or
- 11.8 Mandatory protection of the research information of a third party and of Hollard's research information (section 69).
- 11.9 Requests for information that are clearly frivolous or vexatious, or which involve an unreasonable diversion of resources shall be refused.
- 11.10 All requests for information will be assessed on their own merits and in accordance with the applicable legal principles and legislation.
- 11.11 If a requested record cannot be found or if the record does not exist, the Information Officer shall, by way of an affidavit or affirmation, notify the requester that it is not possible to give access to the requested record. Such a notice will be regarded as a decision to refuse a request for access to the record concerned for the purpose of the Act. If the record should later be found, the requester shall be given access to the record in the manner stipulated by the requester in the prescribed form, unless the Information Officer refuses access to such record.

12. DECISION

Hollard will, within 30 (thirty) days of receipt of the request, decide whether to grant or decline the request and give notice with reasons (if required) to that effect. Hollard will notify the requester (in writing) should an extension be sought if the request cannot be processed within this period.
